HANDY HUSBAND.

Knew How to Get Part of the Breakfast.

"I know one dish I can prepare for breakfast as well as any cook on earth," said by husband one morning when the cook was ill and he had volunteered to help get breakfast. He appeared with his dish and I discovered it was Grape-Nuts which, of course, was easy to prepare for it was perfectly cooked at the factory, but it was a good illustration of the convenience of having Grape-Nuts about.

"We took up Grape-Nuts immediately after returning from a five years' sojourn in a hot country. Our stomachs were in bad condition and we were in poor health generally.

"In a day or two we liked Grape-Nuts better than any other kind of food on the table. We both gained in health and strength, and this was caused by Grape-Nuts and Postum.

"A friend of ours had a similar experience. She was seriously ill with indigestion and could not eat. I told her that would not give her heartburn and indigestion, especially at night.

"She found that a small dish of Grape-Nuts with cream made her a satisfactory supper and gave her a comfortable night's rest. In a short time she gained several pounds in weight."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the above letter. A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.—Adv.

HOOVER SAYS CONTROLLER FAILED TO DO HIS DUTY

Files Answer in Suit to Recover From Bondholders of Former County Treasurer.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, April 10.—Failure of Controller Harry Kinsinger to perform his duty in accordance with the act of assembly of June 27, 1895, P. L. 403, is charged by James H. Hoover, former sheriff of Fayette county, and one of the bondholders of Captain Kinsinger, former county treasurer, in his affidavit of defense filed today in the suit of Fayette county against him to recover $75,000 alleged to have been misappropriated by Capt. Kinsinger as county treasurer.

"It is admitted that in January, 1915, the account of Capt. Kinsinger as county treasurer for 1915 was audited by Controller Kinsinger," says Mr. Hoover in his defense, "but upon information and belief, the defendant deposes that the audit was duly made and in a like manner the defendant deposes that there was found due from said Capt. Kinsinger $75,000."

Mr. Hoover declares that he expects to prove that Capt. Kinsinger did not perform his duty as treasurer of the county for the fiscal year ending January 5, 1915, in misappropriation of the funds coming into his hands as treasurer, and that if any misappropriation of funds that may have occurred happened long before January 5, 1915, and not early as the month of July preceding.

He declares that the report of Controller Kinsinger for the fiscal year ending January 4, 1915, showed a balance of $73,237.30, which was not true and was well known by the controller not to be true. Mr. Hoover declares that on that date there was a balance in the hands of Capt. Kinsinger, he sets forth that the alleged misappropriation of funds was well known by the controller long before his report was filed, and that he failed and refused to perform his duty as provided by act of assembly of June 27, 1895, P. L. 403.

Mr. Hoover declares that the alleged misappropriation of funds by Capt. Kinsinger was not made known to him by the time of the report of January 4, 1915 was filed, nor was the fact made known to him for some months afterwards. He declares that if the controller would have made a true and accurate report for the year ending January 4, 1915, Sheriff Hoover would have been in a position to have collected the claim in whole or in part from Capt. Kinsinger and his debtors. He declares that he is in a position to do so now.

The answer of Sheriff Hoover is made to the new suit which was recently instituted against him by ex-County Solicitor Thomas H. Hudson after he had withdrawn in suits which were originally started, and later discovered to have been irregularly brought.

BOYS LEAVE HOME.

Two South Side Youths Have Run Away.

Paul DeWitt, 14 year old son of J. A. DeWitt of Chestnut street, and James Alexander, also a 14 year old South Side boy, have been reported to the police as runaways from home.

The two boys are thought to have left yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

Where they went is not known and no word has yet been received of them. Their parents know no reason why they should have run away. Young Alexander was dressed in a blue serge suit and was wearing a blue cap. DeWitt wore a blue and green mixed suit and a grey jersey. He also wore a soft green hat.

MISS ELIZABETH ATKINSON.

Miss Elizabeth Atkinson, 64 years old, a resident of Connelville all her life, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at her home, 123 East Church place. Funeral from the house Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Clark C. Buckner, pastor of the Christian Church, will officiate. Interment in Chestnut Hill cemetery. Deceased was a daughter of the late Robert and Sarah Atkinson who at their time were among the best known residents of Fayette county. She was born in Connelville, March 4, 1852. Her father died in 1877, while the death of her mother occurred in 1901. Miss Atkinson resided with her sister, Mrs. Anna Wilde, the only surviving member of the family. Deceased was a member of the Christian Church and was held in high esteem by her wide circle of friends. For a number of years she was a patient. Although she had been in poor health for some time past she had been confined to her home for only three or four weeks.

MRS. KATHERINE CORRIGAN.

Mrs. Katherine Corrigan, 64 years old, died Saturday at her home, 517 Cummings avenue. Funeral tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence. Requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock from the immaculate Conception Church. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery. Mrs. Corrigan was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Galvin and was widely and favorably known. The following children survive: Katherine of Cherokee, Pa.; Mrs. T. J. Holleran of Braddock, Agnes and Frank at home and two brothers, Thomas Galvin of New Brighton and George A. Galvin. Her husband died a number of years ago.

HARRY ROCHESTER.

Harry Rochester, 18 years old, a machinist, was caught between a motor and the side of the wall of the H. C. Frick Coke Company mines at Connelville Saturday, and so badly crushed that he died yesterday morning in the Uniontown hospital.

JOHN MCGOOGAN.

John McGoogan, 50 years old, stable boss at the Standard mine of years ago, died yesterday morning at his home in Greensburg. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

DEATHS.

Bessemer Boy Is Caught and Killed in Revolving Fan.

While playing on an embankment near the revolving fan at Bessemer No. 2, Junior Frank, 17 years old, was killed yesterday evening when the boards beneath him gave way, causing him to fall squarely on the fan. The body was terribly mutilated by the fan before it was brought to a stop.

His companions brought assistance and the body was removed from beneath the wheel. The dead boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Hughes.

MARRIED 30 YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas St. Johns celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary yesterday at their home at Liberty. A well appointed dinner was served. The attractive floral decorations were made and carried out by Mrs. St. Johns. ## MOUNT PLEASANT SUFFRAGISTS PLAN COURSE OF STUDY

Women Will Go Into the Matter of Winning the Vote Seriously.

A FRICK WELFARE MEETING

Brotherhood Expects the Best Session
Yet in Red Men's Hall Tuesday Night. George Yahn, 22 Year Old Son of Rev. and Mrs. S. G. Yahn
Dies at Harrisburg.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, April 10.—A suffrage meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Howard Stoner, on Saturday afternoon. A study course was discussed for the local people and it was decided that it would be taken up and that the president would choose a committee this coming week to decide just what subjects are to be discussed. The president will appoint an enrollment and press committee. The need of money in the local branch was discussed and as there have never been any dues assessed each member will be asked to pledge something during the coming year. The next meeting will be held at the College avenue home of Mrs. B. M. Loe on Monday, April 24. Any person interested in suffrage is requested to be present.
Following the business meeting Mrs.
Howard Stoner served very nice refreshments.

The First Division of the Frick Welfare Brotherhood have planned the largest meeting yet to be held in the Red Men's Hall on Tuesday evening.
The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock sharp. The program includes one safety first talk, two first aid talks, one general efficiency talk, one cooperation talk, one welfare talk and one unioning talk. Addressing places along the lines of safety and welfare work will be shown.

George Yahn, the 22-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. S. G. Yahn, now of Harrisburg, and formerly of this place, is dead. Funeral services were held at the home at 10 o'clock this morning.

John McGowan, who for a number of years was stable boss at the Stan-ard mines of the H. C. Beck, Coke Company, died very suddenly at his Dopel street home yesterday morning.
Mr. McGowan suffered a stroke of paralysis. He was a member of the P. H. C. Funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon and interment will be made in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Jacob Zelenek, aged 51 years, died at his Moorewood street home on Sunday. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday at the Polish Church and interment will be made in the Polish cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Krstin, aged 54 years, died at her home in Carpentertown on Saturday of pneumonia. Funeral services will be held at the Greek Church this afternoon and interment will be made in the Greek cemetery.
Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Zimmerman of Pittsburg, spent Sunday with friends here.

Spring is looked upon by many as the most delightful season of the year, but this cannot be said of the rheumatic. The cold and damp weather brings on rheumatic pains which are awful but pleasant. They can be relieved, however, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

vicinity Friday and Saturday.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take
Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—languid—sallow—suffering—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, poisoned feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substance for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a precious vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 50c and 25c per box.
All druggists.

Take one or two nightly and note the wonderful results.

NEWSY LETTER OF SCOTSDALE DOINGS OVER THE WEEK END

Slight Fire Calls Fire Department to Harry Tissue's Home, Sunday.

PRESBYTERIANS COMMITTEES

Charles Kenneth Rhodes Dies at Walnut Hill; Employees of Casket Company Given a Chicken and Waffle Dinner at Doyle Farm; Notes.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 10.—The employees of the United States Casket Company were given a chicken and waffle dinner at the Doyle farm near New Stanton on Friday evening.

DEATH OF INFANT.
Charles Kenneth Rhodes, aged two months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rhodes, of Walnut Hill, died at his parents' home yesterday of measles. The funeral services will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday. This is the first case of measles in Scottdale this year that proved fatal.

SLIGHT FIRE.
Yesterday morning an alarm of fire was caused by a defective plug at the home of Harry Tissue on Mulberry street. One company of the fire department answered promptly and was not needed. The fire was extinguished without its assistance.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.
A number of her friends at a dinner at her home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. Nish of Latrobe.

ENTERTAINS CLASS.
Miss Verne Kessler on Sunday afternoon entertained her Sunday school class from the United Brethren church at her Spring street home. Those present were Donald McLean, Howard Sheets, Harry Knapp, Carl Medgess, Dickson Knapp and Ole Shurey. The afternoon was spent playing games and refreshments were served.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS.
The Ladies' Bible Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held an election of officers Friday evening. The following officers were chosen: Teacher, Mrs. Anna Wooster; assistant teacher, Mrs. Wooley; president, Mrs. Hattie Dumbriek; vice president, Mrs. Joseph Pagnoni; secretary, Mrs. William Anderson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Minnie Warnick; treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Stoner. Following the election refreshments were served.

SCOTSDALE LADIES' BIBLE CLASS.
The Ladies' Bible Class of the Methodist Episcopal church held an election of officers Friday evening. The following officers were chosen: Teacher, Mrs. Anna Wooster; assistant teacher, Mrs. Wooley; president, Mrs. Hattie Dumbriek; vice president, Mrs. Joseph Pagnoni; secretary, Mrs. William Anderson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Minnie Warnick; treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Stoner. Following the election refreshments were served.

GOOD ATTENDANCE.
The percentage of attendance for the month of March in the town school was 94.6 for both the term and the month. The number enrolled is 1,015 and the number who attended 953.

CHURCH RECEPTION.
A reception was held for the members at the United Presbyterian church on Friday evening. Following a social hour refreshments were served.

CLASS HER GUESTS.
Mrs. Caroline Kane entertained 30 members of the R. G. class of the Methodist Episcopal church at her South Broadway home on Friday evening with a musical and literary program and refreshments were served. A fine was imposed for each piece of jewelry worn by those who attended and for every garment that did not suggest poverty.

PRESBYTERIAN COMMITTEES.
The following committees have been appointed by the trustees at the Presbyterian church for the coming year: Auditing, A. D. Overly, Robert Gove, Mr. and Carlisle Bell; year book, Rev. J. B. Hutchins, J. L. Stoner, R. M. Patton and J. Howard Cammer; for the annual congregational and social, Dr. N. E. Shiley, A. D. Overly and Mrs. G. F. Kelly.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS.
The Ladies' Bible Class of the First Methodist church met in the dining room of the church Friday evening to elect new officers for the class for the coming year. After the business session a very pleasant social hour was spent in various ways, after which refreshments were served. The ladies on the entertainment committee were Mrs. E. W. Strickler, Mrs. C. W. Stoner, Mrs. A. Truxel, Mrs. E. Strawn, Mrs. Warnick, Mrs. John Stoner, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Wolford.

Safe Medicine for Children.
"Is it safe?" is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been recognized by mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other poisonous and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, which is of great importance when the medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effective in relieving coughs, colds and croup. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

SCHOOL TEACHER

Anemic, Run-Down, Nervous—How She Recovered.

There are so many cases like this right here in Connellsville that we are publishing this interesting letter with the hope that some of our customers will try Vinol and get the same happy result that Miss Baez did.

Key West, Fla.—"I am a teacher and became anemic, nervous, run-down, no energy or desire to do anything. I could not sleep and had that languid, nervous feeling that made me a burden to myself. I had taken various tonics without benefit. I heard of Vinol and tried it. Soon I had a good appetite, could sleep all night and it built me up so I have the ambition to do any kind of work." Mary L. Baez, Key West, Fla.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this case is because it is a constitutional remedy that goes to the seat of trouble. The peptone of lion contained in Vinol enriches and revitalizes the blood, while the strengthening, tissue-building properties of the extractives of cod's livers and beef peptone aid in building up the tired, overworked, run-down system. The Lauchrey Drug Co., Connellsville, Pa.—Adv.

"I Hope That Other Mothers May Learn Its Value as I Have"

GRATEFUL PRAISE FOR FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Writing from Rock Island, Illinois, a grateful mother says: "I miss Father John's Medicine when I am out of it more than anything else from my medicine chest. I have it on hand summer and winter. I give it to my two children whose pictures are shown. I hope that other mothers may learn to know its value as I have." (Signed) Mrs. G. H. Diehl, 1004 Eleventh avenue.

Thousands of mothers know from experience the value of Father John's Medicine as a tissue and strength builder at this time of year. It is all-potent and wholesome nourishment which the system easily takes up and changes into fighting strength to ward off disease. Because it does not contain alcohol or dangerous drugs, Father John's Medicine is safe for children as well as older people. Get what you call for.—Adv.

OUR SUGGESTION FOR A POPULAR PLANK

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach or Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, bad breath, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs." Then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is often all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

GERMS ARE DANGEROUS

Do not overlook the importance of having your home entirely free from disease germs which lurk in many places even in the most modern homes and become dangerous to good health.

Every home should have a bottle of bicyclic antiseptic ready for instant use, as there is nothing so effective, when applied to burns, scratches or bruises, because bicyclic instantly kills the germs that infect the wound or bruise.

For cold months, for cleansing the crevices as well as the surfaces of the teeth bicyclic is positively necessary. Rinse the mouth and gargle with a few drops of bicyclic and you will escape throat troubles and other germ diseases and the mouth and breath will be clean and sweet.

Bicyclic is used extensively in hospitals, by dentists and physicians and is the one thoroughly reliable antiseptic and should be in every home.

EXPLANATION OF CLUB OF THIRTY OFFER IN GREAT RACE FOR COURIER PRIZES

Do Not Wait Until Last Day. Act Now; Those Who Realize the Importance of This Extraordinary Offer Will be the Winners; Time Lost Now Will Mean Defeat in the End.

"Please explain what you mean by club of thirty offer," writes one of the late entries in the Courier's contest. "Some times you use that expression and sometimes you talk about extra votes and it is all very confusing to one who is new in this contest business."

For fear there are others who are confused by the terms used in describing this greatest opportunity (time for the big race for prizes an explanation will be given here of what is meant.

Newspaper contests used to be conducted in a manner different from that which is presented as a fair policy now. A simple scale of votes was used with a premium for early work in getting subscriptions; the consequence was that nearly all contestants waited till the very last day to make their big effort and many of them tried to wait till the last minute before turning in their subscriptions. This resulted in a very bad feeling which caused the adoption of the club of thirty policy, under which early work in the contest is made to pay contestants far better than the final effort. This is much more business-like and satisfactory all around.

The club of thirty offer, then, is the time that is set off at the practical start of the contest, after the preparatory period when the effort contestants are put forth shall count them a greater number of votes than corresponding later work. In this particular case the club of thirty offer closes May 1. Until that time all new subscriptions will count for 600,000 extra votes for every $30 club, and old subscriptions will count 300,000 extra votes for every $30 club.

These 600,000 extra votes for every $30 club in new subscriptions, and 300,000 extra votes for every $30 club in old subscriptions, are in addition to the number of votes allowed on subscriptions under the regular scale, which is printed inside the back cover of all subscription books.

The regular votes are issued as the subscriptions are turned in. The extra votes will be issued at the close of the offer. A few contestants have already written in asking that their extra vote certificates be sent them as soon as they have completed their clubs. It will be necessary for them to wait till about May 2 before these certificates are sent them.

"Clubs" is another word that causes some confusion. Our candidates thought his subscribers had to sign some sort of an agreement, handing themselves together to form a club. That is not necessary, nor is it essential to send in a full $30 worth of subscriptions at one time to take advantage of the offer. Just so that amount is sent in by May 1. Get the subscriptions and turn them in, and the clubs will take care of themselves. Every club will be rewarded with the extra votes.

The main thing to understand about the club of thirty offer is that it is the largest offer of extra votes that will be made and it closes May 1.

Saturday evening on account of his illness with an attack of rheumatism. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leighty of Franklin township, spent Sunday with friends in East Liberty.

Mrs. McGill of Dunbar, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Stuckler. Mrs. Frank Abbot and son Peter, visited relatives in Star Junction yesterday.

Dr. H. J. Nixon was an out of town caller yesterday.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"GRAFT"—The thirteenth episode of the political serial, "Graft," will be shown today at the Soisson Theatre with Jane Novak in the leading role. It is an interesting chapter and is called "The Powder Trust and War." Edith Roberts is the star today in the two reel imp drama, "The Crimson Trail." It is a thrilling story of the Northwest mounted police. A tale of the love of a wicked woman's love for a captain of the royal mounted police, for who tried to separate him from his wife, and the sensational ending of her crimes. Elsie Rhodes and Ray Gallagher are featured in the Nestor comedy, "The Wagon Girl." A young wife is ignorant of the way to properly cook meals. Her husband invited a number of friends, and then orders five meals from the restaurant. The visiting friends also order meals. The mishap is certainly funny. "Nearby Happened" is a dicker comedy with Gale Henry. It is a jolly story of a couple's adventures at a summer resort. Tomorrow Edwin Stevens comes in the five reel drama, "The Man Inside." Wednesday the popular Henry King appears in the five reel drama, "Little Mary Sunshine."

PROLOGUE

In "Before Adam" Jack London weaves a fascinating tale of forest primitive, the Cave Folk and other strange creatures of the middle-ages. The hero of the story is a primitive man whose life is one of peril. Chief among his foes are the Tawny One, Saber Tooth and Red Eye. There is also the Swift One who loves and is loved by the man who lived before Adam.

CHAPTER I

PICTURE: Pictures! Pictures! Often before I learned did I wonder, when I saw the multitude of pictures that thronged my dreams, for they were pictures like of which I had never seen in real wakeful life. They tormented my childhood, making of my dreams a procession of nightmares and a little later convincing me that I was different from my kind, a creature unnatural and accused.

In my days only did I attain any measure of happiness. My nights were haunted by the tales of such fear. I make bold to state that no man of all the men who walk the earth with no ever suffer fear of like kind and degree. For my fear is the fear of, long ago, the fear that was rampant in the younger world and in the youth of the younger world. In short, the fear that reigned supreme in that period known as the middle-ages.

What do I mean? I see explanation is necessary before I can tell you of the substance of my dream. What to you is the friendship of Lon Ear, the warm lure of the Swift One, the lust and the attraction of Red Eye? A screaming, incoherence and on more, and a screaming incoherence like the deluge of the Fire People and the Tree People and the gibbering councils of the house, for you know not the peace of the cool caves in the cliffs, the elms of the drinking places at the end of the day. You have never felt the bite of the morning wind in the tree tops, nor the taste of young back, sweet in your mouth.

It would be better, I dare say, for you to make your approach, on a hand mine, through my childhood. As a boy I was very like other boys in my waking hours. It was in my sleep that I was different. From my earliest recollection my sleep was a period of terror. Rarely were my dreams fractured with happiness. As a rule, they were suffused with fear and with a fear so strange and alien that it had no ponderable quality.

For instance, I was a city boy, a city child, rather, to whom the country was an unexplored domain. Yet I never dreamed of cities. Nor did a house ever occur in any of my dreams. Nor, for that matter, did any of my human kind ever break through the wall of my sleep. I, who had seen trees only in parks and illustrated books, wandered in my sleep through interminable forests. And, further, these dream trees were not a mere blur on my vision. They were sharp and distinct. I was on terms of practiced intimacy with them. I saw every branch and twig. I saw and knew every different leaf.

Well do I remember the first time in my waking life that I saw an oak tree. As I looked at the leaves and branches and knots it came to me with distressing vividness that I had seen that same kind of tree many and countless times in my sleep. So I was not surprised instantly, the first time I saw them, trees such as the spruce, the row, the birch and the larch. I had seen them all before and was seeing them even then every night in my sleep.

This, as you have already discerned, violates the first law of dreaming—namely, that in one's dreams one sees only what he has seen in his waking life or combinations of the things he has seen in his waking life. But all my dreams violated this law. In my dreams I never saw anything of which I had knowledge in my waking life. My dream life and my waking life were lives apart, with not one thing in common save myself. I was the connecting link that somehow lived both lives. Early in my childhood I learned that this came from the grocer, berries from the fruit man, but before ever that knowledge was mine. In my dreams I picked nuts from trees or gathered them and ate them from the ground underneath trees, and in the same way I ate berries from vines and bushes. This was beyond any experience of mine.

I shall never forget the first time I saw blueberries served on the table. I had never seen blueberries before, and yet at the sight of them there leaped up in my mind, unbidden, a dream of berries. I had wandered through swamps and eating my fill of them. My mother sat before me a dish of the berries. I filled my spoon, but before I tasted it, to my mouth I knew just how they would taste. Nor was I disappointed. It was the same thing that I had tasted a thousand times in my sleep.

Snakes? Long before I had heard of the existence of snakes I was tormented by them in my sleep. They lurked for me in the forest glades; leaped up, striking under my feet; squirmed out through the dry grass or across naked patches of rock or pursued me into the treetops, encircling the trunks with their great shining bodies, driving me higher and higher or farther and farther, out on swaying and crackling branches, the ground a dizzy distance beneath me. Sometimes with their forked tongues their heads were and glittering scales, their bodies and their rattling—did I not already know them far too well on that day of my first circus when I saw the snake charmer lift them up? They were old friends of mine, enemies rather, that people my nights with fear.

Ah, those endless forests and their horror haunted glades! For what other night have I wandered through them, a timid, hunted creature, starting at the least sound, frightened by my own shadow, keered up, ever alert and vigilant, ready on the instant to dash away in mad flight for my life, for I was the prey of all manner of fierce life that dwelt in the forest, and it was a constant fear that I had before the hunting monsters.

When I was five years old I went to my first circus. I came home from it sick, but not from peanuts and pink lemonade. Let me tell you. As we entered the animal tent a horse rearing aloft the air. I tore my hand loose from my father's and dashed wildly back through the entrance, collided with people, fell down and all the time I was screaming with terror. My father caught me and soothed me. He pointed to the crowd of people, all careless of the roaring, and cheered me with assurances of safety.

Nevertheless it was in fear and trembling and with much encouragement on his part that I at last approached the lion's cage. Ah, I knew him on the instant—the lion, the terrible one! And on my inner vision flashed the memories of my dreams—the midday sun shining on tall grass, the wild bull grazing quietly, the sudden parting of the grass before the swift rush of the tawny one, his leap to the bull's back, the crashing and the bellowing and the crunch, crunch of bones, or again, the cool quiet of the water hole, the wild horse up to his knees and drinking noisily, and then the tawny one—always the tawny one—the leap, the screaming and the splashing of the horse and the crunch, crunch of bones, and yet again the somber twilight and the silence of the end of day and then the great, full throated roar, and then, like a trumpet of doom, and swift upon it the insane shrieking and clattering among the trees, and I, too, am trembling with fear and am one of the many shrieking and clattering among the trees.

At the sight of him, helpless within the bars of his cage, I became enraged. I gritted my teeth at him, danced up and down, screaming an incoherent mockery and making antic faces. He responded, rushing against the bars and roaring back at me his impotent wrath. Ah, he knew me, too, and the sounds I made were the sounds of old time and intelligible to him.

My parents were frightened. "The child is ill," said my mother. "He is hysterical," said my father. I never told them, and they never knew. Already had I developed reliance concerning this quality of mine, this semi-dissociation of personality as I think I am justified in calling it.

I saw the snake-charmer, and no more of the circus did I see that night. I was taken home, nervous and overwrought, with the invasion of my real life by that other life of my dreams.

I have mentioned my mother. Only once did I apprehend the strangeness of it all. He was a boy, my chum, and we were eight years old. From the time I reconstructed for him pictures of that vanished world in which I do believe I once lived, I told him of the terrors of that early time of Lon Ear and the pranks we played of the gibbering councils and of the Fire People and their squinting places.

He laughed at me and jeered and told me tales of ghosts and of the dead that walk at night. But mostly did he laugh at my feeble fancy. I told him more, and he laughed the harder. I swore in all earnestness that these things were so, and he began to look upon me queerly; also he gave amazing carboles of my tales to our playmates until all began to look upon me queerly.

It was a bitter experience, but I learned my lesson. I was different from my kind. I was abnormal with something they could not understand and the telling of which would cause only misunderstanding. When the stories of ghosts and goblins went around I kept quiet. I smiled grimly to myself. I thought of my nights of fear and knew that mine were the real things—real as life itself, not attenuated vapors and terrified shadows.

For as no terrors resided in the thought of bugsabos and wicked ogres. The fall through leafy branches and the dizzy heights, the snakes that struck at me as I dodged and leaped away in chattering flight, the wild dogs that hunted me across the open spaces to the timber—these were terrors concrete and actual, happenings and not imaginings, things of the living flesh and of sweat and blood. Ogres and bugsabos and I had been happy bed-fellows, compared with these terrors that made their bed with me throughout my childhood and that still bed with me now as I write this, full of years.

I have said that in my dreams I never saw a human being. Of this fact I became very, very, and felt profoundly the lack of my own kind. As a very little child even I had a feeling in the midst of the horror of my dreaming that if I could find but one man, only one human, I should be saved from my dreaming, that I should be surrounded no more by haunting terrors. This thought obsessed me every night of my life for years—if only I could find that one human and be saved!

I must iterate that I had this thought in the midst of my dreaming, and I take it as an evidence of the merging of my two personalities as evidence of a point of contact between the two dissociated parts of me. My dream personality lived in the long ago, before ever man as we know him came to be, and my other, my wake-day personality projected itself to the extent of the knowledge of man's existence into the substance of my dreams.

Perhaps the psychologists of the book will find fault with my way of using the phrase "dissociation of personality." I know their use of it, yet am compelled to use it in my own way in default of a better phrase. I take shelter behind the inadequacy of the English language. And now to the explanation of my use or misuse of the phrase.

It was not till I was a young man at college that I got any view to the significance of my dreams and to the cause of them. Up to that time they had been meaningless and without apparent causation. But at college I discovered evolution and psychology and learned the explanation of various strange mental states and experiences. For instance, there was the falling through space dream, the commonest dream experience, one practically known by first hand experience to all men.

This, my professor told me, was a racial memory. It dated back to our remote ancestors who lived in trees. With them, being tree dwellers, the liability of falling was an ever present menace. Many lost their lives that way. All of them experienced terrible falls, saving themselves by clutching branches as they fell toward the ground.

Now, a terrible fall averted in such fashion was productive of shock. Such shock was productive of molecular changes in the cerebral cells. These molecular changes were transmitted to the cerebral cells of progeny—became, in short, racial memories. Thus when you and I, asleep or dozing off to sleep, fall through space and awake to sickening consciousness just before we strike we are actually reliving what happened to our arborescent ancestors and what has been stamped by cerebral changes into the heredity of the race.

There is nothing strange in this any more than there is anything strange in an instinct. An instinct is merely a habit that is stamped into the stuff of our heredity; that is all. It will be noted in passing that this racial memory is so familiar to you and me and all of us, we never strike bottom. To strike bottom would be destruction. Those of our arborescent ancestors who struck bottom died forthwith. True, the shock of their fall was communicated to the cerebral cells, but they died immediately, before they could have progeny. You and I are descended from those that did not strike bottom. That is why you and I in our dreams never strike bottom.

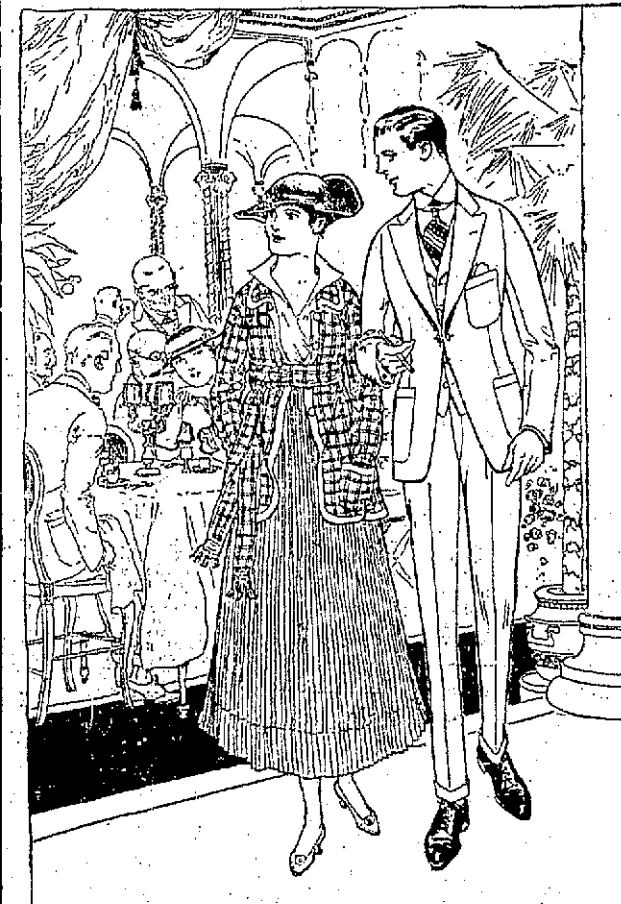

And now we come to dissociation of personality. We never have this

Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Dear Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anurie." I was very sick, could hardly be up. I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets so I thought I would try them. I took only one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, Mrs. Wm. Keller.

NOTE: This "Anurie" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys.

Patients having once used "Anurie" at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anurie" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for mini package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood cleanser and purifier that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to make of red blood, which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. You feel clean, strong and strenuous.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.) "With real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisons waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood as lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, sleepy, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and pallid of face."
"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to its ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mineral origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'Senreco' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Senreco tablets, which may be procured from any druggist, a simple wish which will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

The Constipation Curse

Constipation—clogged bowels—cause pain and sickness. 75 cent. of our ill, say the authorities. Senreco laxatives bring quick relief. All vegetables—contain no calomel. ## RIFLE CLUBS CAN SECURE FREE GUNS FROM GOVERNMENT

Uncle Sam Willing to Provide Means for Target Practice.

PART OF PREPAREDNESS PLAN

Man Who Can Hit What He Shoots at Is 50 Percent Efficient as a Soldier; Only Clubs Who are Affiliated With National Rifle Club Can Get Guns.

A chance for rifle clubs throughout the United States to secure free rifles and ammunition for target practice from the government is outlined by the National Rifle Association of America. At Perryopolis a club of this kind has been organized and application made for guns and cartridges.

From a national defense standpoint the training in rifle practice of the unorganized militia is of as vital importance to our country as the training of the regular establishment and the organized militia. The volunteer who can hit what he shoots at is 50 per cent efficient as a soldier.

The United States government has stored away in its arsenals approximately 300,000 (Krag) United States magazine rifles, model 1908, and 50,000,000 ball cartridges. For same Uncle Sam will issue these rifles and the ammunition free to organized rifle clubs affiliated with the National Rifle Association of America for use of members at small arms practice.

During the first quarter of 1916 just ended the Ordnance Department issued to clubs 316 rifles and 1,038,571 ball cartridges.

To teach the citizenry the use of the modern arm requires organization of rifle clubs and small arms practice under capable instructors. Ten or more citizens of the United States in any town or county near which or in which a rifle range could be constructed, are eligible to organize a civilian rifle club and affiliate with the National Rifle Association of America. Blank forms and copy of by-laws prescribed by the National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice in the United States and instructions how to form a rifle club may be secured from Major Fred H. Phillips, Jr., Assistant Recorder National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice and Secretary National Rifle Association of America.

The association membership on December 31, 1915, as reported by the secretary, was: Twenty-three state rifle associations; 65 regiments; 47 separate military organizations; 648 civilian rifle clubs; 64 colleges and university rifle clubs; 129 school rifle clubs; 2 boys' rifle clubs; 519 life members; 945 annual members.

During the past three months (January 1 to March 31), 1916, inclusive, the National Rifle Association has gained in membership as follows: One state association; 1 regiment; 170 civilian rifle clubs; 1 college and university rifle club; 19 school rifle clubs; 1 boys' rifle club; 21 life members; 127 annual members.

Two Little Fellows to Come Together Again in 10 Round Bout.

WIMLER IS AFTER REVENGE

Local Boxer Regrets Fact That Ray Was Given Decision Over Him in Last Bout and Will Work Hard to Win Ray Wins Over Brannigan.

Those who saw Johnny Ray and Eddie Wimler in their terrific ten round battle at Starfish Hall about a month ago will be glad to learn that the boys are matched for another bout at Uniontown on Tuesday night next. In their last encounter Wimler more than held his own for the first eight rounds but Ray came with such a rush in the last two sessions that it must be conceded that he earned the decision. Since that time both boys have been very busy and are now in shape to put up even a more furious battle than the last one. All of the West Side fans are going to Uniontown Tuesday night in the hopes of seeing Wimler put the Ray-o over on Ray won an easy victory over Patsy Brannigan at Pittsburg Saturday night.

Tommy Levine, who knocked out Henry Broad the same night will meet Chick Rodgers of Mount Washington, one of the toughest boys in the Pittsburg district, in the semi-final. Bob Jackson of Greensburg, and Terrell Duncan, the Uniontown favorite, will hook up in the opening number. Fred W. Kelly will manage the show and Joe Donnelly, the famous "orator-referee" will be the third man in the ring in all the bouts.

Many of the local sports have expressed their intentions to be present.
